

Key information for the Chinese Beginners Stage 6 Syllabus

- The Chinese Beginners Stage 6 course is a 2-year course designed for students who wish to begin their study of Chinese at senior secondary level with little or no prior knowledge or experience of the Chinese language, or whose experience is limited or equivalent to study for 100 hours or less in Stage 4 or Stage 5.
- Students wishing to undertake the Chinese Beginners Stage 6 course must apply for an eligibility determination.
- Schools and teachers use syllabuses to develop educational programs for students. The Chinese Beginners Stage 6 Syllabus requires students to study prescribed topics from 2 interdependent perspectives – the personal world and the Chinese-speaking communities.
- The Chinese Beginners Stage 6 Syllabus has 3 objectives – Interacting, Producing Texts and Understanding Texts. Each objective has related outcomes which summarise the associated knowledge, understanding and skills that students are expected to achieve at the end of the course. ‘Learn about’ and ‘Learn to’ statements unpack the outcomes in further detail.
- Students may be expected to produce the following written texts in the external examination – article, diary/journal entry, email, informal letter, message, note, postcard and script of a talk.
- While there is no vocabulary list, it is expected that students will be familiar with a range of vocabulary relevant to the topics prescribed in the Chinese Beginners Stage 6 Syllabus.
- NESA provides a prescribed character list for the Chinese Beginners course on their Chinese Beginners Stage 6 Syllabus webpage.
- Students are expected to recognise and use grammatical structures which are included in the Chinese Beginners Stage 6 Syllabus.
- The Assessment and Reporting in Chinese Stage 6 webpage includes the recommended (for Year 11) and mandated (for Year 12) course components and weightings. Also refer to this document for assessment and reporting updates.

HSC examinations

- The HSC Chinese Beginners examination consists of a written paper worth 80 marks and an oral examination worth 20 marks.
- The written paper will consist of 3 sections, Section I – Listening (30 marks), Section II – Reading (30 marks) and Section III – Writing in Chinese (30 marks). Students are able to use monolingual and/or bilingual dictionaries in the written examination.
- The oral examination will consist of a 5-minute interview-style conversation between the student and the examiner, relating to the prescribed topics from the perspective of the personal world.
- Past HSC papers by NESA are a useful resource to help students to become familiar with the examination format and structure. Past papers for Chinese Beginners can be found on NESA's website.
- The HSC Standards Materials provide a collection of resources of sample responses typical of work at the boundaries between HSC bands.

General HSC information

- The NSW Education Standards Authority \(NESA\) oversees the Higher School Certificate (HSC), offering resources for students on exam preparation, course selection, and academic integrity.
- The NESA HSC glossary provides teachers with guidance on how to use key terms consistently, ensuring students understand their meanings and apply them appropriately across various subjects for effective exam preparation.
- The NESA HSC assessment moderation process ensures fairness by adjusting school assessment marks based on exam results, making them comparable across schools.
- The ACE rules outline HSC school-based assessment integrity, task development, marking, appeals, and record-keeping. They cover malpractice policies, illness/misadventure procedures, task notifications, ranking, and restrictions on reporting final marks, ensuring compliance with NESA's assessment standards.
- HSC monitoring advice, Section 1.6 outlines HSC record-keeping requirements, including teaching programs, assessment documentation, interventions and work samples. Visit Stage 6 – monitoring implementation and support for more information.
- School-based assessment for the HSC contributes to a student's final mark and is designed to evaluate students' understanding and skills based on syllabus outcomes.
