Introduction

The Transition to School Digital Statement is completed by a child's early childhood education and care service to provide a snapshot of a child's learning, development and background in the year before school. The statement is securely shared online with the child's prospective school to provide schools with the information needed to support students as they move into their new school environment.

The Transition to School Digital Statement Schools Dashboard allows schools to view Transition to School Statements for children whose parents/carers have indicated they will attend that school the following year.

Principals can access these statements via the Staff Portal by searching for 'Transition to School Digital Statement' in My Essentials, and delegate staff access through the Access Management Utility (AMU) and Manage Staff Access (MSA).

This guide has four sections:

Access permission and login. This section of the guide provides information on how to obtain permission to access Transition to School Digital Statement Schools Dashboard as well as how to log in.

FAQs and further support.

Why is the Transition to School Digital Statement important?

A positive transition to Kindergarten significantly improves a child's long-term academic, social and wellbeing outcomes.

The Transition to School Statement supports connections between a child's early childhood education and care service and their new school. It is one component of a range of activities which could include information and orientation sessions, school preparation, the Best Start Kindergarten assessment and family engagement.

The Transition to School Statement aligns the Early Years Learning Framework to the Early Stage 1 Syllabus, capturing a child's developmental progress, strengths and learning style to support continuity of learning. Visit the Transition to School webpage for further information.

System requirements

A stable internet connection is required for the efficient use of the Transition to School Digital Statement. The performance of the website will be impacted by the reliability and performance of your services internet connection and network.

Device and browser requirements

The Transition to School Digital Statement works on devices including laptops, Desktops and mobile devices. It is recommended to use Chrome or Edge for the best experience.

Section 1. Access permission and login

How to get permission to access

Access to the Transition to School Digital Statement Schools Dashboard is open to all school principals. Principals can also delegate access to staff via AMU or MSA. Simply select "Transition to School Digital Statement" from the applications list on AMU/MSA and then tick the users requiring access.

TIP AMU help guides are available within AMU by clicking on 'View Help'

How to login

Understanding the information

This page provides a list of the Transition to School Digital Statements completed by ECE services that have been allocated to your school.

Each child's Transition to School Digital Statement is completed by their ECE educator or teacher based on the information they have collated about the child during their attendance at the ECE service. The Transition to School Digital Statement is an optional tool available to ECE services to communicate important Transition to School information about children transitioning to school the next year. Each question within the statement is optional and the ECE educator or teacher may choose to fully complete the statement or selectively complete the most pertinent questions.

If a child attends multiple ECE services, this child may receive a statement from each ECE service they attend.

Filtering the list of statements

There are 3 filtering options available on the Incoming Kindergarten Cohort page: Filter by, Search and Sort:

Filter by – Use these to filter the list of statements by one or more category: Age, Support needs, ECE service & Status

Search – Search the filtered list based on any relevant keyword, phrase, or string. It will match the input phrase with the data in any of the columns in the statement list. You can search for any data from any of the columns.

Sort – Click on the column heading to sort the filtered list by that heading.

Export table of statements in your filtered list as a CSV file

Once your list of statements has been filtered to your needs, tick the top left box to select all and click 'Export' to download the selected list in a CSV file. You can then use this data to assist as required in transition activities at the school.

TIP if the CSV file does not download in 60 seconds, please disable popup blockers on your browser.

Downloading statements and attachments

You can download a statement or multiple statements and any attachments by ticking the box next to the required statement/s and clicking "Download".

Each statement will download as a ZIP folder containing the statement as a PDF and any attachments that the ECE service included relating to the statement. They will appear in the 'Downloads' folder on your device based on your browser settings.

TIP If the statement ZIP folder does not download in 60 seconds, or, if only one of the statements you ticked downloads, please disable popup blockers on your browser

Mark statements as unread

Statements are marked as "Read" when they are opened.

You can mark a statement as unread by ticking the box next to the required statement(s) and clicking "Mark as Unread".

Section 3. The child statement page

Open a statement.

To open a statement, hover mouse pointer to highlight the required statement in the list and click. This will open the statement and show the below view.
