

CHARACTER

Characters can be fictional people, objects or ideas.
A character is given an identity with a personality, wants, emotions and feelings.

Characters are important because what happens to them and what they do drive the action in a narrative. They have to want something or need to do something, and set about trying to achieve or obtain a goal.