

Apply to join the NSW Department of Education's Specialist Allied Health and Behaviour Support Provider Scheme for 2025

Expand your impact in NSW Public Schools

The Specialist Allied Health and Behaviour Support Provider Scheme supports NSW public schools to establish and maintain collaborative relationships with participating allied health providers. Applications are now open for providers to apply to join the scheme.

Why apply to join?

1. Centralised compliance checks

Streamlined admin:

Reduce repetitive paperwork. We manage the compliance requirements so you can focus on delivering quality services.

2. Increased visibility

Be discovered:

Your services will be featured in a searchable database, making it easier for schools to find and engage with you.

3. Simplified procurement

Easy engagement:

Schools can easily procure our services through a simplified order form.

Services in demand

Occupational Therapy

Speech Pathology

Physiotherapy

Exercise Physiology

Specialist Behaviour Support

Eligibility requirements

Appropriate insurance coverage

- Public Liability ($20m)
- Professional Indemnity ($2m)
- Workers Compensation

Mandatory child protection training

Relevant professional registrations

- Exercise physiologists: Accredited with Exercise and Sports Science Australia (ESSA)
- Physiotherapists, psychologists, occupational therapists: Registered with Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA)
- Speech pathologists: Members of Speech Pathology Australia

Apply by Friday,
1 November 2024

Applications open until: 3.00 pm, Friday 1 November 2024 | Apply via: etender Portal

More information: Specialist Allied Health and Behaviour Support Provider Scheme | Questions? Contact sahs@det.nsw.edu.au

Make a difference in 2025

Apply to join the Specialist Allied Health Provider Scheme and help advance equitable outcomes, opportunities, and experiences for every learner in NSW Public Schools.